ABOUT THIS SCHOLARSHIP

Each year the Robertson Howard Cornerstone Scholarship is awarded to incoming male freshmen at the University of Washington. The RHC Scholarship is a Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity $500 housing scholarship for use in Fall 2005. The RHC Scholarship was created to recognize young men who have a record of achievement in the four “cornerstones” of scholarship, leadership, participation, and public service:

Scholarship: Strong academic performance and the study of diverse fields helps students prepare for the scholastic challenges of the University of Washington.

Leadership: Experience with leadership in high school government and activities or in other outside groups is valuable preparation for the opportunities that are available on campus.

Participation: Committing time to sports, clubs, and other organized recreations is an excellent way to join and contribute to a group of peers - and an important part of the college experience.

Public Service: Volunteer work and time spent in service to our community in high school and college will help to build character and establish a lifelong commitment to our society.

Applicants must complete the attached form and then submit the form before April 10, 2005. Finalists will be chosen and notified by May 15th, 2005. Each finalist will be interviewed between May 15th and July 15th, and five (5) scholarship winners will be selected at that time.
